Testimonies from the 2021 VISIONARY CONFERENCE

MICHIGAN:

God told me late last year that I needed to attend this conference, and I didn't really understand why, but I flew from Michigan and obeyed. Now that it's over, I'm grateful that I went! I see what God's next steps are for me back home at my church, and my visions are clear of where God wants me to advance His kingdom. He has amazing things yet to come! Thank you all for the wonderful conference. God Bless!

PHILIPPINES:

“The Unconscious Obedience of an Unbeliever.” Wow! What a revelation. I am so, so happy that I am able to attend the conference online! Greetings from the Philippines. It's 12am here!

CHINA:

Dear Jesse, I am from China, and I watched your conference. You see, I have been believing for a boyfriend. I'm 24 years old and have never been on a date. I have been believing God to bring me a blonde-haired, blue-eyed guy. While I was watching you, I asked God to give you a word for me, something I know would be for me. You turned to the camera and said, “There is a blonde-haired, blue-eyed boy waiting for you.” Brother Jesse, I believe that word was for me. Praise the Lord!

TENNESSEE:

I have to say that I felt like tonight's message was geared directly to me! I felt God speak to me in so many different ways. I just can't get over how powerful the word was tonight. As someone who is starting their own ministry and who has been struggling over the last week, I've heard God's voice more in the last few days so strong! I can't even believe that there are people out there that don't believe that He even exists. All I can say is, Hallelujah and Glory be to God! I'm ready to go to work already and can't wait until tomorrow's message. Also, I want to say that I am so pumped, as my ministry will be having our first Board of Directors meeting on Saturday!

The Blinding Intensity of FAITH

Don't Be Blinded by the Idea of "It's Too Good to Be True"

JESSE DUPLANTIS

Sometimes people start out trying to believe, but then they give up. They're blinded by the idea that what God says is "too good to be true." I call that the intensity of faith, and it's blinding to some. I always say that if the light of faith is too bright for you, it's only because your eyes are accustomed to this world . . . and this place has very little faith and way too much darkness.

Remember that just because you haven't experienced something in the past doesn't mean you can't experience it in the future—your past is not how you measure the things of God! His ways and His thoughts are higher than natural ways and thoughts (Isaiah 55:8-9). Faith is intense because it takes you out of your natural comfort zone and moves your perspective higher, and so if you want what God says, then you have to move higher.

You have to be willing to look into the light of His love for you, because the faith you will gain by hearing the Word works by love. You must believe that God loves you. If not, how can you have faith in what He says? What He says is said from a place of love, and that is a very intense and pure place. It's a divine love, and maybe one that you've never experienced in your past. Everything God has is bright and pure.

There is light in every promise from God. They are all "too good to be true" if you are only looking at the natural ways of this world—but God's ways aren't man's ways. If a person tells you something, you cannot bank on it being true. You know that human nature is flawed and that people lie. God is not a man that He should lie.

When Guilt and Shame Are Linked to Doubting God

Divine truth is bright. The Gospel is so pure that it makes those who love darkness recoil and gnash their teeth in hatred. As believers, we are drawn to the light because we know that it's full of love—and anything God says to us is for our own benefit, even if it corrects us. So, whenever we begin to have faith in Him, we are choosing to look headlong into the purity of His light and love. God is not passive. He is pure. God doesn't look the other way when it comes to our sin. He uses the blood of Jesus to wash it away from us. That's not a passive and loving Father. That's a just and loving Father. God is strong, and yet He is long-suffering with us. His mercy and grace aren't cheap; they came at the price of His only Son.

This is why the love of Christ is so overwhelming at times to those of us who've accepted Christ. Just thinking about what Jesus did for us, by taking our sins upon Himself on the cross, is an overwhelming thought—because it's "too good to be true" in the natural that any man would do this for others, even others that bitterly hate him.

Jesus presented us with a Gospel so pure that it is blinding for some. Even if they accept salvation, they will often wade through life in guilt over their past—the same past that the blood of Jesus washed away. He doesn't want the light of His glorious Gospel blinding us to the details of our redemption. He wants us to see ourselves in the light of His Son and realize that the great sacrifice for our sins also includes our guilt and shame.

For many people, doubting God is linked to guilt and shame. They doubt God will do what He said for them because they believe they are unworthy—that the mistakes they made are still hanging onto them. The intensity of faith is too much for them, and they are blinded by the light of His forgiveness.

Unworthiness, once you accept Christ's sacrifice for your sins, is a form of doubt. It's saying you don't think the blood of Jesus is good enough to wash your sins away. From that state of mind, it's easy to see why even good believers say "it's too good to be true" when they are taught about other things in the Word like healing or abundance in life.

If the baseline of your salvation is the remission of sins and a person can't accept that even that is taken care of, then it's going to be very hard to move on to anything else. This type of person may say that they want to be healed or blessed, but inside they doubt that God will heal or bless them. They believe others may receive but doubt that they can receive.

Listen to me. If you believe God is good and that His Word is true for somebody else, you should believe the same for yourself—because the same Jesus died and rose again for us all. Your sin can't be bad enough to overcome the blood. Somebody else's sin may be miniscule to your old sin, but guess what? It's all sin. It's all washed under the blood. And it's time for us to see ourselves for who we are—not sinners saved by grace but new creatures in Christ, where old things have passed away and all things have become new. That's how you get rid of that "unworthy" junk that is just a form of doubt. Take those shackles off. Jesus died so that you could walk free.

When Being Shackled with Debt Is Linked to Doubt

Many people tell me that they are shackled in debt, but I've come to see that one key component to getting out of debt and staying out is to renew the mind concerning finances—to get rid of the doubt that tells you that "you have to live this way." To be free, you have to see yourself as free. Many people can't imagine living without debt, and that's a problem. It's one very real reason that they keep perpetuating the same debt-filled ways of life.

I tell people that in order to get out of debt, they have to start seeing themselves as people who can be debt free—they have to start thinking of themselves as lenders instead of borrowers, as the scripture says we can be (Deuteronomy 28:12). They have to start seeing themselves as able, through God's blessing, to be the kind of person who owes no man anything but to love him, as Romans 13:8 says. Faith in God's power and in our own power comes the same way—by hearing, and hearing the Word of God (Romans 10:17).

We can't keep thinking, believing, and saying the same things and expect to magically start doing different things. That's why so many people start off good but give up. They have good actions at the start, but they never dealt with the mindset that got them in trouble in the first place.

People tend to follow patterns and will go back to what is most common in their own heart and mind. I've seen people do all the right things in the natural, like being aware of bad habits, getting a plan in place, and starting to pay things off, but end up in just as much debt down the road. Their debt-free lifestyle didn't last. Why? They didn't deal with the root problem. So, they came back to living the way that was most familiar.

You see, if you don't renew your mind and let go of doubt in your heart about debt or anything else really, you'll end up in the same place you started later in life. This is why it's so important to focus on your thoughts, even in something as practical as working to become debt free. This is why you need to get to a place where you don't doubt God's ability to bless you and give you concepts and insights that will help you. This is also why you need to get to a place in your mind that you don't doubt your ability to live life the way He said you could—free from debt.

Remember, a lot of people are debt free but broke. There are tons of debt free people living on the streets! Just because you don't have debt doesn't mean you have anything at all. The point is not only to be free from the debt that shackles you, but also to live in faith that Jehovah-Jirah (the name for God as our Provider) is always with you providing what you need and desire as you focus your faith. Spiritually, physically, and even financially, we need to see ourselves as houses of God that contain His Spirit—and His Spirit is not one Who is bound by fear and lack.

Sometimes, a person who has accepted the lies of a lack mindset will be compelled to waste money as a way to fill an emotional need. They buy things they don't even want just to have the thrill of buying something new, when they already have a ton of debt that needs to be dealt with! God's Word calls us to be wise stewards of what we have just as it tells us to believe Him for all the desires of our heart. He's never trying to limit our blessings, but He does want us to root out the areas where we're lacking inside. Only He can fill those spaces, and when He comes in, we easily get rid of habits that cause us to lose out in the end.

God can help you with whatever inner problem that brings outer problems, but you must help yourself, too—and step one is building faith that you have everything you need in Christ spiritually. Let that shift your emotions. Everything else that you need or desire is in addition to that spiritually “full” state of being. Let all your desires rise up without fear, knowing that God will give us freely all things to enjoy in life, but we must see Him as the Source—and have faith in His ability to guide us in even the smallest practical things in this life, including finances. All the “things” are added to you after you put Him first. Seeking first the kingdom is not about Heaven; it's about seeking first His way of doing things in life (Matthew 6:33).

So, while this world sells us a lie that we have to live in debt, that there is no other way to get ahead, we can stop listening to the lie. We can come to a place where we are so filled with what God said that what the world says doesn't fit. Again, remember that faith in God and in yourself to become debt free is going to come just like any other faith—by hearing, and hearing the Word.

If You Keep Saying What You Don't Want, You'll Keep Getting What You Don't Want

Watch your lips. You can read all the Word you want, but if you keep saying what you don't want, you'll keep getting what you don't want. If you tell yourself you “can't” when God said you “can,” you are doubting God's ability just as much as you're doubting your own—and why would you want to do that if you want to be blessed? There are enough people in this world to drag you down; don't add to it.

Remember that it's hard to get something you don't believe you can have. So, work on believing you can have what God said. If that's your issue, focus on verses that deal with blessings—and not just needs, but desires. God can go over and above just needs, and Jesus told us to ask for what we desire in His name. A lot of people don't believe that, and that's why they don't get it! They learned to doubt Jesus Himself, and they get the fruit of their own lips.

You must sow seeds toward your future, and every word you say is a seed. So, plant the Word; don't just repeat it and leave it. Take a hold of it in your heart. Make it personal because faith must be personal to work, whether it's about spiritual, physical, or financial things. You can't make much headway on secondhand faith, but you can go all the way with your own faith. The Word that calls you blessed in the city, blessed in the field, blessed coming in, and blessed going out matters—the more you really believe yourself to be blessed, the more blessings will come.

Clean out the old ways of thinking. Replace them with God's Word, which is His way of thinking. Get rid of doubt and you'll get rid of the root of debt. Remember, what God says about you is final—not what this world says. This is some of what God says: The blessing of the Lord is on you and it brings wealth with no sorrow (Proverbs 10:22). God has given you the ability to produce wealth and establish His covenant on this earth (Deuteronomy 8:18). God's favor surrounds you like a shield (Psalm 5:12). God says that if you respect Him, you will lack nothing (Psalm 34:9).

Read Deuteronomy 28:2-8. Think of it like it's God talking directly to you, because you are the seed of Abraham through Christ Jesus' work, so you are one of God's chosen. Read about how the blessing will come upon you, even overtake you, when you obey the Lord. Read how you'll be blessed everywhere you go, and how even your possessions will be blessed. Yes, the devil will fight it, but so what! The enemy can come at you one way, but he will flee seven ways. God will command the blessing to come upon you—and you'll be blessed in your storehouse (this is in whatever area you store wealth, which, in modern times, would usually be a bank). Realize that according to the Word, God will bless every single thing you set your hand to do.

Now, that's just a little bit of scripture—but start with a little, knowing that even just one Word from God is enough to make radical changes to your mindset. Read the last two paragraphs again and realize that if you start believing that about yourself, you are going to start thinking, talking, and acting differently! You'll end up like 3 John 2. You'll end up using the Word to prosper at a soul level first (mind/will/emotions)—and out of a prosperous soul, you will begin to prosper in ALL things and live in health, too. That's what 3 John 2 says, and guess what? I believe it! In fact, I never learned to doubt it!

So, if someone who's mind is stuck in the world's system starts criticizing me, that's why I say things like, "Don't get mad at me if wealth and riches are in my house! I didn't say it, God did. I just repeated it, believed it, and received it." They aren't criticizing just me, they are criticizing God because He's the One Who said it—I just believed He would do it. I believed and didn't doubt, and He brought it to pass. So, let people criticize if they want. What do I care? I'd rather be on God's side than the world's side anyway!

Life and Death Are in the Power of the Tongue—The Anointing for Healing Flows Best with Others

There's a reason James 5:14-15 encourages the sick to go to the elders of the church and have hands laid on them—it's because our combined faith is greater than our singular faith. Unity is powerful, and the anointing of God is stronger when we come together with others of like precious faith.

My wife is the pastor of the church at our ministry headquarters. I travel most of the time, but I make a point to be in the church as often as I can. I consider the congregation my spiritual family, and I love being with them. In my church, I've seen many who've gone through some pretty tough battles. A man named Darryl is one of them—the doctors had told him he didn't have long to live, and I remember being in that hospital room as he fought to breathe. Yet, in the midst of that struggle, Darryl had faith in God. Those around him were believing in faith for his recovery, too. None of us can know the heart of another person, but when someone is struggling and saying they are believing God, I believe that if we care about them, we should set our faith in line with what they want. Not everyone wants to fight. Some get weary and give up. But for those who are believing God, well, I'm going to believe God with them—I'm not going to deny the problem, but I'm going to deny its right to touch one of God's beloved.

Looking at Darryl, I realized that he may have thought he needed us, but we needed him, too. We need each other in the faith. The anointing flows best when we are in unity, praying together and being together in a unified state of belief. Well, Darryl may have shocked the doctors when he recovered instead of dying, but we were not shocked—we were just seeing the physical proof of what we'd believed all along . . . that Darryl would be healed.

We believed he'd be healed when he was first diagnosed with a bad report. We believed when he seemed, by all accounts, to get worse. We believed when the doctors told him death was near. In other words, our faith in God didn't change with the circumstances—it just got stronger. I've found that the most blessed state to live in is to believe God without physical proof. Your "evidence" must be in the faith itself. Hebrews 11:1 says it this way, "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

To this day, when I see Darryl, I often tell him, "You ain't going anywhere without us!" I want him to know that our faith as a congregation isn't singular—we are in faith together, and that includes the struggles. People have asked me, "Well, what would have happened if he'd died?" They don't typically like my response. "Well, he would go to Heaven," I said, "but he wasn't ready to go. So, leave him alone, and set your faith with his."

I believe that "Death and life are in the power of the tongue: and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof" (Proverbs 18:21). We shouldn't bring doubt into a situation where someone is fighting for his or her life—we shouldn't bring doubt anywhere! If death and life are in the power of the tongue, then we should be people who speak life. We should love life. Many believers say they love life but speak death all the time.

You're Sowing Word-Seeds Toward Your Future Every Day, So Be Sure to Plant What You Like and Want to Eat

Have you ever heard someone pray a wonderful prayer of faith and then immediately cancel it out with negativity afterwards? If the only words of life you say are during a prayer, that's a problem—because every word is a seed that is being planted. Again, think of this verse: "Death and life are in the power of the tongue: and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof." Ask yourself, "If I only plant a few word-seeds of life but plant acres and acres of death-seeds with my mouth, what do I think I'll eat the most of in my life?"

Death or life, how do we know what we love more? All we have to do is listen to the words coming out of our own mouth. Remember, our words don't just happen—it is out of the abundance of the heart that the mouth speaks (Luke 6:45). So, what we say the most comes from what we believe the most. Every day, we are cultivating our future. Every day, we are sowing. That means we need to plant what we want to eat!

Some people get flat mad when I use this verse when talking about healing—they would rather be nice than truthful, and they get angry thinking about someone who didn't see healing in this lifetime. They want to take it out on me, but I refuse to take the bait. Hebrews 11:35-39 gives us a list of people who died "in faith," and all of them are in Heaven today—so if someone loses a battle, it doesn't mean they lost the war. In this world we have tribulation and trouble, but we overcome when we choose to have faith anyway and be of good cheer, knowing that Jesus has already overcome. In Him, we overcome, too.

On my dying breath, I will believe God—I don't care what others think or say because it's only what God says that will last forever. Heaven and earth will pass away, but

His Words will never pass away. So, I choose Hebrews 11:1 knowing I'm in a blessed state when I don't have physical proof yet of what I am believing for in faith—it's how I know I'm on my way to seeing manifestations.

I don't want to be an "I'll believe it when I see it" doubting Thomas kind of man. I don't want to be an Eve kind of believer either, who listens to the devil long enough to be tempted by his lies. No, I've decided that I want to be what Jesus said is best. I want to "believe without seeing" because Jesus called that best. I want to be obedient to whatever God says because I know if God is saying it, then it's in my best interest—spiritually, physically, financially, and in every other way that pertains to this life. 🌐

This article is an excerpt from Jesse's newest book,
I Never Learned To Doubt

There Is LIGHT IN GOD'S PROMISE to You— Will You Believe?

Friend, God wants you to look into the light of His great love for you. His promise is not about religion but about a personal relationship with His Son, Jesus Christ. He laid down His life and rose again so that we could spend eternity with Him in Heaven and experience His absolute best on earth.

It is the will of God that everyone receives eternal salvation. The way to receive this salvation is to call upon the name of Jesus and confess Him as your Lord (Romans 10:9-10). Jesus has given salvation, healing, and countless benefits to all who call upon His name. These benefits can be yours if you receive Him into your heart by praying this prayer:

Heavenly Father, I come to You admitting that I am a sinner. Right now, I choose to turn away from sin, and I ask You to cleanse me of all unrighteousness. I believe that Your Son, Jesus, died on the cross to take away my sins. I also believe that He rose again from the dead so that I may be justified and made righteous through faith in Him. I call upon the name of Jesus Christ to be the Savior and Lord of my life. I ask that You fill me with the power of the Holy Spirit. I declare that, right now, I am a born-again child of God. I am saved, in Jesus' name. Amen.

If you've prayed this prayer to receive Jesus Christ as your Savior, I want to hear from you. I want to rejoice with you (and all of Heaven too) about your decision to accept His sacrifice on the cross. I'd also like to send you a free book from my ministry, titled Understanding Salvation, to help you in your new walk with Christ. You can contact me online at jdm.org or use the top portion of the response/order form included with this magazine. I look forward to hearing from you!

God Bless You,
Jesse

"Bold POWER and glorious majesty are wrapped around her as she laughs with joy over the latter days."
(Proverbs 31:25 The Passion Translation)

GLORIOUS MOMENTS with Cathy

The name of our Lord is great and powerful! Since 1976, Jesse and I have been using every available outlet to fill the earth with the fame of His name. Psalm 8:1 (TPT) declares, “Lord, Your name is so great and powerful! People everywhere see Your splendor. Your glorious majesty streams from the heavens, filling the earth with the fame of Your name!” Through meetings, products, magazines, television broadcasts, and social media platforms, we are helping people everywhere see His splendor. We love sharing testimonies, like the ones featured here, with the world. Each one is a declaration of His glorious majesty that is streaming from the heavens. Let’s give glory to the wonderful name of Jesus!

United Kingdom: I just want to thank Cathy for her testimony in the magazine about how you got your first building. It’s been such a blessing and an encouragement whilst waiting for the building the Lord has promised me as a refuge for hurting women. You have been such a blessing and an encouragement to my life here in the U.K., because you are so “real” and because of the path of faith you have pioneered for so many.

Minnesota: I started looking back over the course of when I started sowing seed and the harvests I have received. I came across some amazing information about my seed and its increase. I started sowing seed in April of 2019. In 1 years’ time, my seed-giving DOUBLED! And from 2020 to 2021, my harvest and my seed-sowing TRIPLED, plus some. I had never looked at those numbers before until recently. That is absolutely amazing, AND I am almost debt free! The harvest has been just as plentiful as the increase of seed-giving! God is so good!

North Carolina: I just have to take a moment to thank you all and give God praise for the change in our son’s life. He is 23 and has rededicated his life to the Lord. He got hooked on Jesse’s videos and submerged himself in the Word. He has recently accepted the call to preach. We can’t praise God enough for this change in his life and so appreciate JDM for having such an influence on him. He tells everyone he can about JDM and sends videos when he knows a person has a need. My husband and I have been Partners for a couple of years, and our son is now as well. Thank you, JDM, for being a part of our lives. Keep on for the Kingdom!

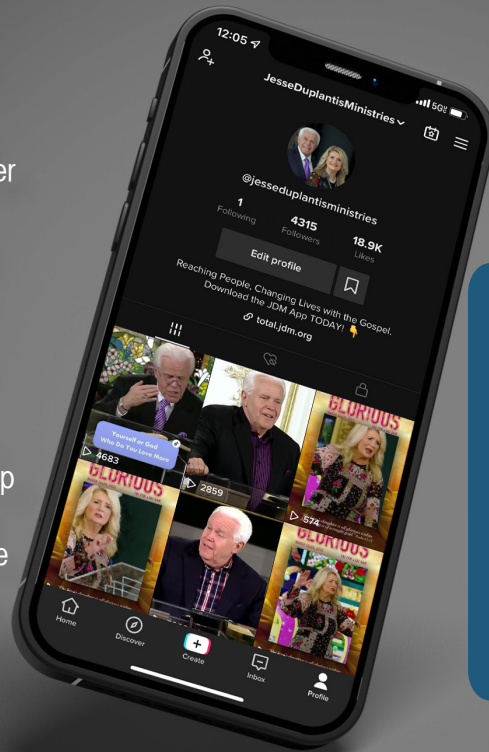

California: Dear Reverend Jesse and Pastor Cathy, it is with great joy that we make our first contribution to Jesse Duplantis Ministries as a family. Several years ago, my two boys (then 13 and 10 years old) began watching you, Jesse, and then Cathy, on YouTube after I shared one of your teachings with them. We are members of a local church here in California, where we sow our monthly tithes as a family. However, it became very clear, very quickly, that the Lord was moving in a way through you both that touched the boys in a way that they had not been touched before. The solid meat that you dispense through your ministry has been impactful and life-changing to them. Soon after being introduced to your ministry, my then 13-year-old began saving up 10% of whatever little money he received and proudly told me that he was planning to sow seed into your ministry because he felt like this is where the Lord wanted him to sow his seed, because he felt like this is where he was being fed spiritually. So in 2021, after saving up $122, he came to me and put the $122 in my hands and asked me to write a check so that he could sow his seed to Jesse Duplantis Ministries after saving up 10% of every money that he had received over the years. I took his $122 in cash and wrote a check out to JDM and sent it in on his behalf. Since then, he continues to put away 10% of everything that he receives and keeps it to be sown to your ministry. We have a small business and recently hired the boys to pay them for helping out with small tasks in the business. Recently, we paid them $1,000 each for the work that they had done over last year. I was overwhelmed with emotions as a mommy when they told me that they wanted to sow their $1,000 into your ministry as their “firstfruits.” Every single Sunday, both boys (now 15 and 12) wake up in the morning and put on Covenant Church on YouTube and watch the sermons. Recently, both my husband and I have begun joining them every Sunday morning to watch as a family. They enjoy watching Cathy preach the Word as much as they enjoy hearing you, Jesse, preach the Word through your various YouTube streaming. You are both such amazing blessings of the Lord in their young lives. They enjoy your Boardroom Chats and Cathy’s Bible Study as well. In November of 2021, we took a family trip in our old RV from California to Florida, and the boys’ only request was that we stop and visit JDM as we drove cross-country. On our way to Florida, despite our planning, we came through New Orleans during the night and the boys were disappointed because we were not able to stop and see Covenant Church as they had hoped. The boys were so disappointed, their dad promised them that we would stop again on our way back home from Florida to California. I knew that the Lord was at work, and it was His plan that we should return on our way back home. On our way back to California, on Wednesday November 10th, we stopped by JDM and this time it was mid-morning, and the Lord was at work. As we pulled up with our old RV, we were greeted by a wonderful gentleman who inquired about our reason for stopping. He was gracious and kind to us and told us that it was okay for us to park on the grounds and go in to see if we could get a tour of the facilities. What a wonderful blessing of God he was to our family that day. He accompanied us inside and introduced us to a wonderful woman that gave us a tour of the facility. He prayed a prayer of blessing over our family, which brought me and my usually very reserved husband to tears, which has resulted in a permanent shift in my husband’s walk with the Lord. We were hoping to meet you and Cathy in person. However, as we understood it, you were in meetings and had just returned home early that morning from preaching the Word of God. Every single person that we came across at JDM were absolute blessings. We were blessed to receive a tour of JDM. Each of us, especially my husband (who is always a bit cynical), were all so touched and moved to see what a beautiful gift JDM has built to God’s glory. Every single thing, from the top of the ceiling to the floor, seemed to exist to glorify and exalt the Lord. What an absolutely beautiful experience. We can personally attest to the wonderful things that you and your ministry are doing in the name of the Lord. It is uncommon these days to see someone build such a magnificent gift unto the Lord. It was after our tour—being touched by your wonderful staff that we came across at JDM Headquarters, and being firsthand witnesses to the magnificent gift that you have built to God’s glory as we walked the halls of JDM—that my husband made the decision for us to begin supporting your ministry as a family. It is with great joy that we send in our first seed to your ministry as a family and look forward to making our monthly contributions to your ministry in support of the work that you are doing to further God’s Kingdom. Thank you very much for being such blessings to our boys, and to us as a family. Thank you, Jesse and Cathy, for being obedient to God’s calling on your lives. Thank you both for building something so beautiful and wonderful unto the Lord. Thank you very much for doing God’s work in this world. Our oldest son has had a picture of you both on his vision board for the last two years, and he looks forward to meeting you both one day. God willing, we will be able to make it for the Visionary Conference in July and perhaps meet you and Cathy and thank you in person.

Never Fight an Enemy That's Already Defeated

You don't have to fight—you can resist and rest in victory!

In this straightforward and often funny message, Jesse explores the temptation of Christ in the wilderness, as well as topics such as offense, religion, and cultural differences. Filled with teaching from the Word and personal stories, this message will challenge you to recognize your own power and stick with the Word of God no matter what!

You'll be inspired to...

- Stop trying to become what you already are
- Never use the power of God for personal advantage
- Avoid associating with wicked people for the attainment of a good end
- Never perform a godly act in a prideful spirit
- Avoid criticizing others by getting to know their culture
- Flow in God's divine righteousness, love, and power
- And more!

You don't have to fall for the devil's same old tricks. You can resist the devil, instead of assist the devil, and rest in victory!

THE CHALLENGE OF THE OPEN DOOR

JESSE DUPLANTIS

Do you know that God has opened a great and effectual door for you? It's your divine opportunity to do something amazing for Him, but will you obey and walk through it? That's the challenge, and I want to energize you with Holy Ghost boldness to take the challenge and accomplish everything God has in store for you. Get your heart ready, because you're going to learn how to recognize the open doors God has for your life, and you're going to gain the courage and passion to step into your destiny.

Let's go straight to the Word of God for revelation on this. Go with me to 1 Corinthians 16:5-10 where Paul is talking to the Church of Corinth:

Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.

And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.

For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.

But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.

For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.

Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

Notice verse 8 where Paul says, "But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost." Why Ephesus? Ephesus is a place that opens up to Asia and Asia Minor. There were a lot of people coming to Ephesus at that time to attend a festival called the Diana Festival, a celebration of the Roman goddess. At this point in time, Paul's been there three years, and he normally didn't stay that long anywhere. But the reason why he stayed is right there in verse 9: "For a great door and effectual is opened unto me..." In other words, he sees something—there's a great opportunity, but don't miss the end of that verse, "...and there are many adversaries." Listen to me, wherever there's a great door, there's always going to be adversaries. But Paul wasn't moved by them at all. You need to understand that they tried to kill him in Ephesus! He fought with wild beasts, for crying out loud! But he was determined to do what God was calling him to do.

Go with me now to verse 10: "Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do." So how did Paul have such courage in the face of all his adversaries? He was about the Father's business and nothing, not even the threats on his life, could stop him from spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He recognized the open door and realized that it was an opportunity to be grasped with both hands. Ultimately, he valued the calling on his life far more than his own physical life.

Don't you want that kind of passion for Jesus? Ask Him for it. Spend time in His Word and fellowship with Him. He will give it to you. And when He does, you'll start recognizing the effectual doors He has for you.

Maybe you're thinking, "But Brother Jesse, I'm not a preacher. I'm not qualified to do the work of the Lord." Listen, God's not interested in your qualifications; He's interested in your obedience. Look at Saul of Tarsus who became the great apostle Paul. He was a murderer, but Jesus transformed his life and saw a willing vessel. Just look at how He used Paul's willingness to spread the Good News—he was unstoppable!

So whatever God is calling you to do, like He did for Paul, He will equip you and never leave your side. And if ever something seems to be blocking a door you know God has opened for you, just know that difficulties will awaken tremendous courage within you. Why? Because Christianity makes you courageous, and the Christian spirit in you will refuse to subscribe to the doctrine of the closed door.

I remember when the Lord told me He was sending me to preach to the world. I didn't think I was qualified. I thought He would be better off using someone else. But what I've learned is that all the Lord ever asks of His children is for us to be willing vessels, and then He fills in the rest. That's why I want to encourage you today to always be on the lookout for the effectual, open doors in your life. There is an assignment God has for you, and there's someone out there that He wants you to touch for Him.

I often think about the courage and tenacity of Helen Keller. She couldn't see, she couldn't hear, and she couldn't speak. But there was something she could do: touch. That was an open door for her. She recognized it and walked through it. She became one of the greatest women that God ever put in shoe leather, but it took energy and faith to overcome the adversaries in her life. I truly believe that she had so much faith that if someone had just had the guts to pray for her, she probably would've gotten healed.

So when I hear people say, "I can't," I say, "Stop looking around with blind eyes! Open them up and refuse to subscribe to the doctrine of the closed door." All you need is a willing, obedient heart and you will be amazed at the mighty things the Lord can and will do through you.

I've witnessed His power at work throughout my 46 years of preaching the Gospel. To this day, my doors for God are like supermarket doors. Before I even approach them, they open up! When I see one, I say, "Okay, Jesus, I'm at Your command! I'm taking a leap of faith through the door for You." And just as soon as I step through the door, He then shuts it right behind me. So you see, my front's protected and my back's protected—and He will be faithful to do that for you, too!

Wherever there is advancement, there is opposition. But when you are steadfast to follow God's direction, He will fight your battles victoriously. When I quit my job and started preaching, I was criticized left and right. People said, "That boy can't preach! He's a comedian, not a preacher!"

Even my own pastor tried to shut me down and couldn't. He called other pastors and tried to stop them from having me preach at their churches. He told them that I wasn't "qualified," but he was only thinking about my background before I was saved. When I heard that, I just preached to myself. I said, "That man has died! The Bible says that 'if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new'" (2 Corinthians 5:17). And to God's glory, I'm still traveling the world with the Gospel and walking through doors with Him.

So be encouraged and know that when you step through an open door for God, His still, small voice will always be louder than the voices of any naysayers who try to stop His plan for your life. Always remember that when an open door comes with a challenge, you must look at the door first and your adversaries second. When you do that, your adversaries will give you greater incentive to walk out what God wants you to do.

Think about how Jesus' adversaries increased incentive within Him. I didn't realize it until I read it in His Word, but I think Jesus had a little gangster in Him. Because when people told Him they were going to kill Him, He said, "What? Let me tell you something. Ain't nobody going to take my life! You understand? I lay my life down freely!" I know that sounds a little funny, but it's true. Jesus is the Lion of Judah, and He has given you lion-like might, too!

I hope your expectation is rising for the great future God has in store for you and His Church. You and I are living in the age of the open door. While this world is going crazy with riots, wars, and unrest, people are looking for a voice. Right now, men's and women's minds are open as never before to receive the truth. That's where you come in. God has given you a spirit and energy to be on the lookout for openings. So the next time you see an effectual, open door, take a leap of faith and walk through it for Jesus! 🌐

"For a great door and effectual is opened unto me..."

1 Corinthians 16:8-9

Take a Leap of Faith and Walk Through the Door!

There's a magnificent door that God has opened wide for you. The challenge? Will you obey and walk through it?

Get stirred up to shine for Jesus as Jesse teaches you how to recognize divine opportunities that will lead you to your destiny in Christ. Be energized with Holy Ghost boldness as you learn how this is the age of open doors, where people's minds are open as never before to receive the truth. You'll be ready to step into your destiny and do something great for God as you find out how:

- An open door is an opportunity to be grasped with both hands—it's an opportunity for service
- The Christian spirit refuses to subscribe to the doctrine of the closed door
- Difficulties awaken courage in you because Christianity makes you courageous
- Jesus is the Lion of Judah, and He has given you a lion-like might

You were created to walk by faith and achieve the great purpose God has for you. Be determined and on the lookout for the effectual door Jesus is opening for your life. It's time to take a giant leap of faith through that door for Christ!

All
Dressed Up
& Somewhere
TO GO!

CATHY DUPLANTIS

It never fails—as soon as we get in the car to go get something to eat, my husband will ask, “Where do you want to go?” We could almost tape our conversation and replay the tape rather than go through the same song and dance every time we go out to dinner.

Jesse says he is just being considerate by letting me choose. But we both know he hasn’t a clue about where he would like to go and doesn’t want to make another decision. We are all dressed up with nowhere to go.

In frustration, I usually pick what I think he would like instead of where I really want to go. Once the decision about where to go is finally made (by me), our focus is on reaching our goal. Anticipation and excitement fill the air because we are all dressed up and we have somewhere to go. We are ready!

As Christians, it is our responsibility to stay ready. The Word tells us to be sober, vigilant, instant in season and out of season, and ready for action. Jesus told the people, “Be dressed in readiness, and keep your lamps lit” (Luke 12:35 NASB1995). The King James Version says, “Let your loins be girded about...” which referred to the long and flowing robes that were the normal dress of that day. If anyone was serious about working, they had to secure their robe with a sash or girdle so that it would not hinder their work.

To get the same point across today, we would say “roll up your sleeves” to let someone know it is time to work. But when I think about being dressed in readiness, I can’t help but think about a song I heard many years ago. I don’t know the title, but one verse goes something like this: “Put on your red dress, mama, ‘cause we’re going out tonight!”

Now that’s a clear example of being dressed in readiness! You are filled with joy and expectation about doing something. Spiritually speaking, the same is also true. You have put on the whole armor of God, standing firm in prayer and on the alert in the Spirit.

Ephesians 6:14-18 NASB1995 tells us, “Stand firm therefore, having girded your loins with truth, and having put on the breastplate of righteousness, and having shod your feet with the preparation of the Gospel of peace; in addition to all, taking up the shield of faith... the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the Word of God. With all prayer and petition, pray at all times in the Spirit, and with this in view, be on the alert with all perseverance and petition for all the saints.”

GO DO THE WORK

JOHN 14:12

As Christians, it is our responsibility to stay ready. The Word tells us to be sober, vigilant, instant in season and out of season, and ready for action.

Ready Anytime for Anything

After His resurrection, Jesus told the disciples about an adventure that they were about to begin. They were about to be dressed in readiness by the Holy Spirit. Luke 24:49 NASB1995 says, “Behold, I am sending forth the promise...stay...until you are clothed with power from on high.” Everywhere they went, the Holy Spirit clothed them with the power of God to witness, to heal the sick, deliver the oppressed, and overcome the world.

It is vitally important that we do whatever is necessary to stay dressed in readiness. Be aware of those things that rob you of time with God in prayer and in His Word. When you spend time with Him, you are never caught off guard. You become sensitive to hear and obey the prompting of the Holy Spirit. You become alert and ready at every moment to resist the devil.

The Word says, “...Be alert and sober...put on the breastplate of faith and love...” (1 Thessalonians 5:6-8 NASB1995); “Prepare your minds for action, keep sober in spirit” (1 Peter 1:13 NASB1995); “Be of sober spirit, be on the alert. Your adversary, the devil, prowls around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour” (1 Peter 5:8 NASB1995).

GO DO THE WORK

JOHN 14:12

It is awesome to see God change impossible situations to fulfill His plan for your life.

Dressed for Adventure!

Many years ago, my daughter Jodi and I traveled together to a ladies' conference where I was invited to speak. From the beginning of the trip, we knew we had embarked upon a great adventure.

Jodi booked our flights and made it clear to the ticket agent that we wanted to go from New Orleans, Louisiana to Carlsbad, New Mexico. However, when we arrived at the airport and tried to check our bags, the porter said, "Lady, you have a problem. Your final destination is Carlsbad, California, not Carlsbad, New Mexico." At that time, we had never heard of Carlsbad, California! By mistake, the Airline had issued us tickets to California instead of New Mexico.

We prayed in the Spirit as we quickly made our way to the ticket counter to change our ticket, hoping we could make connections in time for the service that night. We refused to allow the devil to stop us and prayed for a miracle as we told the ticket agent the situation. We praised God as she told us that the flight we needed to catch was leaving in five minutes and radioed ahead to the gate and told them we were on our way. As we ran to the gate, we thanked God for divine intervention and protection.

Although we didn't expect more adventures, things really got interesting at our next connection in Dallas, Texas. Since it was a long distance to the gate for our next flight, Jodi and I were advised to take the airport shuttle tram to save time. We did not have food on the previous flight and had learned that there would be no food on our next flight, so we decided to grab a quick bite before boarding the plane. We thought we had enough time, but we were wrong.

As we approached the gate, we noticed that no one was around. We stared at the locked door in disbelief and screamed "NO! We can't miss this flight!" Immediately we began to bang on the door, praying for someone to hear us. The agent at the next counter yelled sarcastically, "Ladies, it doesn't do any good to bang on the door, you missed the flight."

Jodi and I refused to listen to her and continued banging away and praying for the favor of God. Suddenly, the agent for our flight unlocked the door and we told him our situation. He told us to wait there while he checked to see if the plane had pulled away. But we couldn't just wait there, we were on his heels running down the jetway to the plane and praying in the Spirit the entire time. Obviously, this was in the days before we had the strict TSA security rules that we now have in place. What an adventure!

The door to the plane was shut and the jetway had pulled away a few feet to allow the plane to back away from the gate. Making eye contact with the pilot, Jodi and I saw a reassuring nod and knew we had been granted favor once again. The agent quickly re-attached the jetway to the airplane and the flight attendant opened the door so that we could board the plane. There was no way anyone could have wiped the smiles off of our faces once we stepped onto that plane. We had made it! It is awesome to see God change impossible situations to fulfill His plan for your life.

Living in Readiness Changes Your Priorities

Anna, the Prophetess, served the Lord continually and was present at Jesus' dedication in the temple. She was dressed in readiness and witnessed the first coming of Jesus (Luke 2:36-38).

Esther saw the need of the Jews and was ready to be used by God to deliver her people. She knew she was called "for such a time as this" (Esther 4:14).

John the Baptist was filled with the Spirit for a purpose. He was sent by God to turn back many to the Lord and make ready a people prepared for the Lord (John 1:23).

During the period of time after the resurrection of Jesus and before His ascension, Jesus made many unannounced appearances to His disciples. They never knew when Jesus would appear in a crowded room or on a lonely road and vanish almost as suddenly as He came. I can imagine the anticipation each time that they were together, ready and waiting for His return to the earth.

As Christians, it's our responsibility to be ready for Jesus when He comes. In the 260 chapters in the New Testament, over 300 references to the Second Coming of Jesus reveal that His appearance shall be:

Certain: "If I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again" (John 14:3).

Personal: "This same Jesus...shall so come in like manner" (Acts 1:11).

Sudden: "Watch...lest coming suddenly He find you sleeping" (Mark 13:35-36).

Visible: "Every eye shall see Him" (Revelation 1:7).

During His final days on Earth, Jesus gave His disciples the following words of instruction and encouragement:

In My Father's house there are many dwelling places (homes). If it were not so, I would have told you; for I am going away to prepare a place for you.

And when (if) I go and make ready a place for you, I will come back again and will take you to Myself, that where I am you may be also.

John 14:2-3 AMPC

Jesus is preparing all of Heaven for you! If you have asked Jesus to forgive your sins and come into your life, you are destined to be with Him for eternity. Actually, you are all dressed up and you have somewhere to go: Heaven! 🌐
