GIVE GOD A JOB

Testimonies

When I listened to Jesse minister at the last Southwest Believers' Convention, as he was speaking at the end of one of his messages, he prophesied (or at least I received this message personally) and said, "You are getting the flower shop!" It was totally off the subject he was addressing, but was exactly the matter I was asking direction for. My husband of 33 years went to be with our Lord in early April that year, and I needed to make the decision to either keep our shop of 10 years or declare bankruptcy and close. Since that time, one miracle after another has happened and will continue. I truly believe this word was meant for me. Thank you. Your ministry is one of the ministries that I hold up in prayer every morning. Thank you for praying for me also.

Brother Jesse and Pastor Cathy, since I have been tithing to Covenant Church, we have been able to pay off a loan. My husband has started receiving payments due him, so we are able to start paying other things off. Praise the Lord God, our Heavenly Father!

I'm so thankful for you, Mr. Jesse, for your obedience in Christ. I have been so blessed by you speaking God's Word. I listen to you a lot and love your joy and funny stories. You make listening to the Word so easy.

Thank you, Cathy. Your Bible Study teachings are very timely for me. I am learning and growing from this ministry, quite quickly now, as I should've when I first got saved. Better late than never, I reckon! Thank you, Jesus.

I gave God a job, and since I've been a Partner, I've been debt free. Thank you, Jesus!

I live in Norway, and I've been a Partner to JDM for some years. I have learned so much and have been changed for the good since I have been following you. You both bless me every day.

I love being a Partner. The anointing of increase is on me and my construction business!

A man in a yellow shirt and blue shorts is running away from the viewer on a long, straight asphalt road that stretches into the distance. He is holding a flaming torch in his right hand. At the end of the road, a large, rocky mountain peak rises, topped with a cross that is engulfed in flames. The sky is a mix of blue and orange, suggesting a sunrise or sunset. The landscape on either side of the road is flat and open.

Grab the FLAMING TORCH OF FAITH

JESSE DUPLANTIS

Destiny. Have you noticed that the word destiny doesn't come up too often in normal conversation? Try to remember the last time you sat down with a friend to discuss something as lofty as destiny. Oh sure, you might hear something about the destiny of the Titanic on a television special. You certainly will hear people discuss the destiny of the blue whale, the Asian elephant, the gray wolf, and other endangered species.

But what about the destiny of another species, more important but less talked about than any other? What about the destiny of the human soul? The destiny of the believer who truly walks by faith?

Today, it seems that those men and women whose souls' hunger for God-like faith are in danger of becoming one of the earth's most endangered groups.

Think about it: How many people walking the earth today could be compared to the faith giants of yesteryear? Men like John G. Lake, Smith Wigglesworth, Charles Finney, or all those listed in God's Faith Hall of Fame in Hebrews 11. These men were fiercely committed to bringing the Gospel to the world. Their hunger for God-like faith was insatiable and they soared with the eagles in their pursuit of the Most High!

Do you know what all those great faith-giants have in common?

They're dead!

That's right, they've all moved on to Heaven!

So, who will be the faith giants of this generation? Who will grab the flaming torch handed down by our forefathers of faith and run with passion toward the mark? Will it be you?

It can be!

Well, it can if your faith has a destination.

"A destination? What do you mean by that, Brother Jesse?"

I mean that you'll never reach your destiny if your faith doesn't have a destination. A destination is a place set for the end of a journey. It's the finish line!

Many believers would love to have lived the lives of some of the men mentioned above. They admire such loyal commitment to God and the miraculous acts of faith and power displayed in these men's lives. Yet, as much as they admire others, many believers seem to go through their Christian lives with only one destination in mind. What is it?

To have faith.

They may spend years trying to attain faith. But to what end? Faith isn't a gold medal. It isn't the prize at the finish line.

So, what exactly is faith?

It's the action that will carry you to your destination. It's the supernatural force that gives you the endurance to go through life at a strong, steady pace, doing the works that Jesus did and greater, until you finish your course. Faith is the action that will carry you to your destination.

That is, if you have a destination in mind.

My Faith Had a Destination

I learned about having a destination when I was only five years old. That's one thing about being born into a dirt-poor family in Louisiana: you learn your lesson early.

I distinctly remember being five years old and crying out to God.

“God, I don’t know what we’re gonna do!”

On the heels of that heartfelt cry, I had a thought. One day I’ll make a success of myself. Then Mama will have enough to eat. She’ll have anything she wants to wear. One day!

I determined my destination when I was five years old. Where was I headed?

Out!

Out of poverty.

Out of lack.

Into a place of plenty.

How would I get there? I had no earthly idea, but I was going.

My faith had a destination.

Who will grab the flaming torch handed down by our forefathers of faith and run with passion toward the mark? Will it be you? It can be!

You may have heard me say that I was a heathen by the age of eight. It’s true, and it happened because of the commitment I made three years earlier.

I grew to hate prayer.

“Bow your head, Jesse!” My mama used to tell me.

I heard people talk about God healing. They were all sick.

I knew people who believed in prosperity. They were all broke.

The Christians I knew had preacher barbecues every day.

If a black man made the mistake of walking into our church, he probably wouldn’t have made it back out. By the time I was eight years old, I’d seen too much hatred and bigotry in God’s name.

“Mama,” I asked, “what’s the matter with the people at that church?”

“They’re foolish,” she sighed. “They’re stupid. They shouldn’t act that way.”

After three years of waiting for God to show up, I gave up believing that He would.

“I don’t believe in your God, Mama.” I said.

“You’re a heathen!” she gasped, slapping me.

“God don’t do nothing!” I argued. Slap!

Mama’s slapping and rebuking did no good. I gave up on God. I had a destination in my life, and by the age of eight, I figured I’d have to get there on my own.

It was especially important that I figure out what to do with my life, because I wasn’t supposed to be. My daddy let me know that I was a fleeting moment of passion.

“Boy,” he said, “you sure caught us by surprise.”

It was the simple truth.

I Was Different

If the news of my imminent arrival took my parents by surprise, that was nothing compared to the jolt they got when I was born.

I didn’t have any eyes.

I didn’t have a nose.

I didn’t have a mouth.

“My God, what is it?” my mother cried.

“Let’s put it back,” Daddy said.

“Well, looky here!” the doctor said. “It’s a veil baby!”

Veil baby? my daddy thought, It better be a Duplantis baby!

I was born with a piece of skin covering my face. Someone told me it happens about once in every 30 million births. The doctor clipped that skin away, and I saw light for the first time.

There’s something about being the middle child. Mama always worried about the oldest. And she always worried about the youngest.

“There’s just something about you,” Mama said. “I’ve got to take care of your brother. I’ve got to take care of your sister. You? You’ll make it.”

How will I make it? I wondered. Maybe like daddy in the oil field.

“Mama,” I’d ask, “what am I gonna do?” In other words, what’s my destiny?

“I don’t know,” she’d say thoughtfully, “but you won’t be an oil field worker. You’re going to do something different.”

“What, Mama?”

“It’ll be revealed.”

My Mama’s Faith Had a Destination

The day I found out I could play a guitar was the day I knew I’d found my key out of poverty. The other kids would be outside playing, and I’d be in my room strumming that guitar. I started off with country music, then I discovered Elvis Presley. I'd rock out. "Hubba hubba hubba hub..."

"Jesse!" Mama barked, "Go outside and play!"

I went, but I took that old guitar with me. The man across the street would yell, "Hey! Little Jesse! Come over here and play for me!"

I'd play every song I knew for him, which was three.

He was so patient and kind. He applauded every time. It went on for years. Every time I played for him, he gave me a word of encouragement.

"You can do anything you want!" he'd say. "You're an American!"

"Is that the same as being Cajun?" I asked.

"Play that guitar!" he'd say. "Play yourself out of here and into the world!"

Words like that go into a kid. Oh, I'd play! Eventually, I started playing different instruments.

Why did I practice, practice, practice when I could have been having fun? I had a destination.

Another thing I did, because I had a destination, was make good grades. I figured the only way out of there was to work hard and make good grades. I was an oddity among the Duplantis clan. I don't use the word clan lightly. The Duplantis bunch were Catholics and didn't believe in birth control. We grew into a clan.

Out of that whole clan of people, I believe that I'm the only one who always made good grades. I'm the only one who graduated from high school.

Was I smarter than the rest? No. I just had a destination.

Man succeeds because he thinks he can. He fails because he believes he will.

When I was eleven years old, my mama told me, "Son, I want you to play in church for the campmeeting they're having."

"Why would I want to do that?" I asked. "First, they don't pay. And second, they don't even appreciate good music."

But, as usual, Mama got her way, and I went to the church on the night of the campmeeting to play my guitar. The leaders listened to me play a little before service, and then they asked me to get on the platform with a few other guys. They didn't have a place for us to sit, so we stood with our instruments.

Now, I had a habit when I played. I moved!

When we started playing, I turned that guitar toward the amplifier, put in a few licks, and started moving. A little while later, the whole thing stopped. The sound went dead and I heard a voice yell from the pew. "Get that kid off there!" That was the first time I was thrown out of church.

"You can't play!" they said. "You've got devil music in you! And you've got some of that black music in you, too!"

"Yeah, well, y'all need some black mamas in here!" I said. "Them sorry, fat, white women can't sing a lick!"

I had a destination—out of that meeting!

It's sad to say, but after that, I sold my talent for a bundle of money. I had it all by the world's standards.

What made me walk away from wealth, fame, and fortune?

My mama's faith had a destination—to bring me back to the altar of God.

There's Nothing Infectious About Secondhand Faith

Why didn't I catch hold of the faith of those Christians that crossed my path when I was young? Because they were trying to live off of secondhand faith. They may have been living off the truth of their mama's relationship with God. Maybe they were living off the faith of the founder of that church. Maybe they were trying to live off the faith of John Wesley.

It really doesn't matter.

Secondhand faith isn't infectious.

I couldn't catch real faith from them if I rubbed up against them all day. The only antidote for secondhand faith is firsthand relationship.

Let's look at 1 John 3:1-2: "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew Him not. Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be..."

Secondhand faith isn't infectious. I couldn't catch real faith from them if I rubbed up against them all day. The only antidote for secondhand faith is firsthand relationship.

These verses make it clear that not only should we be called the sons of God, we are the sons of God. But do you know what gets folks really riled up? People get mad when I say I'm a son of God. They write me ugly letters.

"Who do you think you are?"

I already told you. I'm a son of God.

One Catholic lady asked me, "Are you a saint?"

"Yes," I told her.

"When did they canonize you?" she asked.

"When I was born again."

I know we're using different terminology because the devil has invaded religion. Of course, you and I are not THE Son of God, but according to the Bible, we are sons of God.

"Why is that so important, Brother Jesse?" someone asked.

Because if you don't know who you are in Christ, you'll never fulfill your destiny.

Verse two in 1 John 3 says it all: "It doth not yet appear what we shall be..."

That means that we are not finished products. What will we be like next week? What about next year? It doth not yet appear.

But I can tell you one thing: If you're the same, you're not going anywhere.

Why? Because your faith doesn't have a destination. If it did, you would grab the torch of faith and move forward.

I can hardly wait to see what I'll look like next year. But it doth not yet appear, even though I look in the mirror every day.

I love to read the Word of God aloud. Why? Because faith comes by hearing, not by reading. I must grab the torch of faith and move forward. I need faith to reach my destination. So, I read along and substitute my name in those scriptures because God is talking to me.

I was doing that one day when the devil interrupted me. "Do you think all those words in the Bible belong to you?"

I answered without thinking, "No, devil, two of them belong to you. All the rest belong to me."

The devil is so stupid. He asked, "Which two belong to me?"

"Your words are The End! All the rest belong to me!"

Man Succeeds Because He Thinks He Can Man Fails Because He Believes He Will

I don't listen too much to people who say, "Well, you know, Brother Jesse, the last time I was sick..."

"I don't want to hear that," I tell them.

"Huh?"

"Don't rehearse what the devil did! Rehearse what Jesus has done!"

"But I'm sick!"

"Well, by Jesus' stripes you're healed! Take 'ye were healed' and omit, 'I am sick.'"

"How long would that take, Brother Jesse?"

"Do you ask that question when you take Sudafed? Do you ask it when you take Tylenol? Do you feel better as soon as you take it? No. You have to wait for it to kick in. About twenty or thirty minutes later, your sinus passages will open up and suddenly you can breathe again."

"See, Brother Jesse, you said it yourself. Cold medicine works quick."

"Yeah, but there's one big difference. Those cold remedies never conquered a cold. It just dulls them. In about three hours, you'll be hacking and clacking again."

When you take a dose of Jesus' stripes by faith, you'll be healed!

Too often, people fall in love with God but divorce His Word from their life. When people try to divorce the Word of God from their life, they've turned out all the lights. They've blinded themselves.

You Have to Have Light to Reach Your Destination

If you could see into the Spirit realm, a lot of Christians would look like veil babies. They're wandering around trying to reach their destination with no light and no vision. In reality, they're trying to finish their race, but they've wandered off course.

You have to have light to reach your destination.

That's not such a hard concept. It's even true in the natural. The law says you have to have lights on your car. It even says you have to have lights on your motorcycle trailer.

We were on a motorcycle trip with the Copelands one time when the lights went out on my trailer. Kenneth was laying on hard cement trying to fix them. My daddy always taught me to be helpful, but I can't fix anything. I never bought a screwdriver until I met Jerry Savelle and Kenneth Copeland. Why should I? Cathy always did the fixing around our house.

So, I stood there watching Kenneth on the cement by my bike, getting aggravated about the situation. I decided to be helpful in spite of the fact that Jerry was sending me all kinds of warning signals.

"Hand me that screwdriver," Kenneth said.

"Which one is the screwdriver?"

"It's the long one."

"Yeah...I got it!"

"Hand me the Phillips."

I didn't have any idea what a Phillips was.

Finally, I decided to give Kenneth Copeland some advice.

Jerry waved frantically trying to get me to stop. “Jesse,” he said, “he’ll get it.”

“Brother Copeland,” I said, “I find that if I can’t figure something out...” Kenneth lowered his eyebrows and looked at me, “...I just walk away from it, and come back to it later.”

“Well,” he said, “why don’t you do that?”

I backstroked out of there with Jerry laughing all the way.

Faith with a Destination Won’t Quit

The next day, those trailer lights were working.

That was the first time I realized that Kenneth was painting a visual picture of something more important than trailer lights. What was the picture?

Faith with a destination won’t quit.

We were in a meeting many years ago when the lights went out. Brother Copeland didn’t give up. He said, “Open your Bibles to...”

He was going to preach with a flashlight!

Gloria never stopped preaching when a storm tore the roof off a building!

Faith with a destination won’t quit!

I was doing a movie in Oklahoma with Brother Copeland one time when eleven tornadoes touched down. We were stuck way out on location, and no one could get to us. Willie George spoke up, “Y’all get in my Suburban.”

Get in a Suburban? I thought, How about getting in a ditch?

Pretty soon, here came the hail. It was beating that Suburban up.

God, I’ve got to get out of here!

About then, Kenneth started rebuking the devil.

“Devil, I said get out of here!”

“Kenneth, you’re making him made!”

Here it was, my first movie, and I had to die...twice! The first time I was acting. By the looks of things, the second time would be real.

A few minutes later, someone walked up to the Suburban with a shovel over his head in the middle of that hail storm and those tornadoes! I figured it must be a mighty man of valor.

It was John Copeland, Kenneth’s son. He knew something I hadn’t figured out yet. He knew his daddy wasn’t going to quit.

So what if there are eleven tornadoes? Lasso one and ride that baby!

Faith with a destination won’t quit.

Fellowship with the Father Kills Fear

What makes a man rebuke tornadoes? The same thing that caused Jesus to rebuke the wind and waves. He had a relationship with His Father. The more you fellowship with God, the more you are aware that you are His child. The more you know who God is and who you are, the less you fear the devil or man.

I’m quite sure of my future. I have the joy of my salvation. I have the safety of His favor. I have the inspiration of His Spirit.

When you’re in right standing with God, everything changes. When you start the race, you’ve already won. The trophy is already yours. You don’t have to prove yourself to God. Jesus already proved Himself.

“Brother Jesse, what if I don’t know which way to go?”

Walk in His footsteps.

I was preaching with a great man of God some years ago when a lady got his phone number and called him at three o’clock in the morning. “I need some help,” she said. “I need my boy. I want my boy!”

“Well, bless God, the Bible says you’ve got the promise of your family down to a thousand generations,” the man told her. “We’ll believe God for him. Where is he?”

“He’s dead.”

“Dead?”

“Yeah, he’s dead, but I’m a widow and I need my boy! You said all things are possible, so let’s go to work!”

“Well, what funeral home is he in?”

“He’s not in a funeral home,” she explained. “He’s in a grave. We buried him three years ago, but I don’t care! Didn’t the Bible say to raise the dead? Come on!”

“Ma’am, that’s the truth. Faith is available, and that miracle is available. But, I’ll be honest with you. I’m not there yet.”

“Well,” she said, “when you get there, call me.”

Today, you may be just a few steps into your destiny. But where will you be on destiny’s path at this time next year? Will you win your city? Your state? A nation?

She had faith that his faith would grow. It didn't make a lick of difference to her that her son had been dead three years. And do you know what? It doesn't make any difference to God either.

God Is Going to Wake Up All the Tombs

The Bible says that when Jesus rose from the dead, graves opened up and people walked all over Jerusalem. Can you imagine that? Hearing your great, great, great, great, great, great, great, great uncle say, "I'm baaaack!"

Lazarus was in Abraham's bosom when Jesus called him back.

Then Jesus told us to go do the works that He did, and greater (John 14:12).

In other words, finish your destiny.

"What is my destiny, Brother Jesse?"

To do the works that Jesus did, and greater. Winning souls. Spreading the Gospel. Healing the sick. Casting out demons. Raising the dead. That is the destiny of every believer, not just the faith preachers of long ago.

Do you want to see your destiny fulfilled? Then it's time to go beyond just trying to attain faith. It's time to start living in faith! Without faith you won't be aware of your true destination. And without a destination, you won't be able to fulfill your destiny. After all, how will you know if you've gotten there if you don't know where you're going in the first place?

Today, you may be just a few steps into your destiny. But where will you be on destiny's path at this time next year?

Will you win your city?

Your state?

A nation?

It doth not yet appear.

Will you empty a hospital? Transform a prison? Own a television station? Start a Bible School in Peru? Print books in Russian? Fund a ministry in Siberia?

Just like the many great men and women of faith before you, you have the power to create change in the lives of people around the world. It isn't just a nice sounding idea, it is your destiny.

You can begin where your great forefathers of faith left off. The flaming torch they ran so passionately with is being passed from one faith-generation to the next, and it is now being held out to you.

Will you leave this great faith to burn alone?

Or will you reach out and grab its strengthening power with both hands?

Don't spend another day wondering what you should do with your life. Give your faith a destination. Grab the torch of faith and begin to run towards your destiny today! 🌐

Are you ready to make Heaven your destination?

Today, you can make a choice that will change the course of your life forever. Will you receive God's love and plan for you? Your heavenly Father loves you so much that He gave His best and sent His only begotten Son, Jesus Christ, to the cross to bring you back into right relationship with Him.

Friend, Jesus is offering you an eternal and victorious destiny to fulfill—will you receive it? No matter where you are or where you've been, He wants to wash away your mistakes and open up a whole new way of living from this day forward.

If you don't know Jesus as your personal Lord and Savior, or if you've wandered away from the faith somehow, would you pray with me today? As you say these words, if you believe with your heart, you will be born again (Romans 10:9-10):

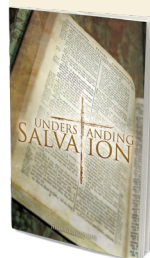

Jesus, come into my life. Forgive me of my sins. I ask You to cleanse my heart and make me a new person in You right now. I believe that You are the Son of God and that You died and rose from the dead for me.

Jesus, I want to thank You for loving me enough to die for me. I accept all that Your shed blood bought for me on the cross, and I receive You as my Savior and Lord. In Your name I pray. Amen.

Congratulations and welcome to the family of God! You now have a brand-new, joyful life with Jesus to look forward to starting right now.

If you prayed this prayer, I would like to send you a free copy of our Understanding Salvation booklet to help you in your new walk with Christ. You can contact me at JDM.org, or you can use the top portion of the response/order form included with this magazine. Remember, when you're in right standing with God, you don't have to wonder what you should do with your life. Keep the torch of faith burning and run to your destiny in Christ. I'm praying for you!

VISIONARY

C O N F E R E N C E

JULY 10-11, 2025 THUR. 7PM
FRI. 10AM & 7PM

TESTIMONY

Dear Jesse and Cathy, this is to say that the 2024 Visionary Conference changed our perspective, increased our faith, and encouraged our hearts. The words spoken on Thursday night, Friday morning, and Friday night were powerful. Friday, when we had the power outage and the generator kicked on, it tied in with the word spoken and it was amazing how you did not panic or let the problem affect the word the Lord gave to you to give to all who attended. We made a faith decision to fly from Denver, Colorado to New Orleans, and the sacrifice has already returned over 100-fold. Although we are still expecting the manifestation of healing for my wife's ALS diagnosis, we are standing on the word spoken. The anointing of increase is upon your life, and we are so happy we have become partners to your ministry, because we have already realized increased blessings. I sincerely believe that we will be a million-dollar donor soon. Thanks again for the dynamic word spoken during the 2024 Visionary Conference. We love you and your family.

GLORIOUS MOMENTS with Cathy

Our God is so good! I want the whole world to know about His glorious acts. That's why I love sharing testimonies. Psalm 107:22 (NLT) says, "Let them offer sacrifices of thanksgiving and sing joyfully about His glorious acts." Jesse and I are so thankful to God for all His glorious acts in the lives of those that He has called us to reach. May God fill you with His joy as you read this month's collection of glorious moments from our wonderful Partners.

Thank you for praying for me. I gave God a job and He was at work! On 12/26/2023 I was diagnosed with lung cancer that jumped to my back and liver. I went to the elders of my church and they anointed me with oil, wrote to KCM and JDM, and advised that no one could talk negative about or around me. I did my declarations with God's medicine and the ones Brother Copeland sent me, and I praised God for my healing. On 3/18/2024 I journaled the words the Holy Spirit gave me: "Miracle, peace, home, expect a miracle, look for it." My cat scan on that date showed no success with chemo, and the doctor started talking about quality of life. But there was 1 more drug that had a less than 9% chance of working. I claimed it as my miracle. On 6/13/2024 I had another scan, and the tumor in my lung was GONE, and the tumors on my liver were almost gone! My liver was brown before, but now it is turning pink, and all the tumors are coming off! My blood work is so much better, almost perfect! My doctor knew I was praying, so he said I should do one thing: "Keep praying!" I took Brother Jesse's advice and gave God a job, and He is doing it! I continue to take treatment and I declare, "I will not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord!" To my God be ALL the Glory!

Last year my son was told that he had tongue cancer. He had chemo and radiation done. After 6 or 8 weeks, they did a scope that didn't look good. He was told that the next option would be to remove part of the tongue. He had a biopsy of the tongue and, one week later, the results were that he was cancer free. Thank you for your prayers.

At the 2023 Rejoice Conference in Colorado Spring, Colorado, Cathy, along with the pastors, prayed for my foot to be healed. I had injured it several years ago, and it had begun to hurt so badly that it was painful to the touch and often kept me up at night. I am healed! It has not hurt or been swollen since! Praise God! We enjoy listening to Jesse and Cathy and appreciate everything that they do, including coming to Charis Christian Center. Very thankful for those that proclaim God's goodness.

Hi, Jesse! Just want to say that when I first accepted Jesus in my heart, your sermons/messages were the first I heard and watched. That was 20 years ago. I have since watched many pastors and many wonderful sermons, but you are still my favorite. I also just watched the Boardroom Chat, "Angels: Our Hidden Help." It was so good, I found myself smiling the whole time.

I need to let you know the fun we have been recently having with God and the way He has been answering prayer. About 2 weeks ago, we bought a turkey at a new store we were trying out, and my wife suggested that we could make a Thanksgiving meal out of it. We live in England, so this is not the norm. We had a wonderful meal and gave thanks to God for the various ways His goodness has been shown to us down the years. Imagine how we laughed when only the following day we got your latest Partner magazine, where you suggested that wherever in the world we lived, it would be nice if we could do a Thanksgiving meal. But this was only the start. I work as a supporting actor in film and television, where we have been supporting our American colleagues in their strike action for various condition improvements. The day after the meal, I got a booking to resume a shoot next January that had been cut off by the strike. But a couple of days later, I got an even more astounding request to film the next day. This job was not only the best paid I have ever had, but included limo transport from door to door, and all expenses paid hotel accommodation. The cast and crew were first class, and the whole experience was 5 star. But this was not all. In 2022 I had a total hip replacement, which went perfectly (covered in prayer), but left significant bruising below my right knee to ankle. Around 3 days after the big filming, late in the evening, I had the most excruciating pain in my right ankle, as if I had strained it falling off a curb. I immediately called on Jesus and declared my healing. We were going into town the following day to do some vital shopping, and I declared that with every step I took I would get better. For the first few hours, I wobbled and hobbled but kept declaring that I was healed and pain free. Returning home, I could tell that the ankle was working and the pain had almost gone. Imagine my joy, however, when I checked the ankle the following morning and found it not only healed, but all the bruising almost gone! We serve an awesome God. Thank you both for all your teaching, Boardroom Chats, etc., and I look forward to soon sending a testimony of how we have paid off the last of our mortgage debt.

Jesse Duplantis Ministries is such a HUGE, HUGE, HUGE blessing to me fulfilling my God-given mission. Your daily messages are usually prophetic or rhema word from God to me regarding His purpose for my life. Thank you for sharing your wisdom.

I want to thank you and Pastor Cathy for agreeing and praying for my family and I. I recently had my 70th birthday and God answered my prayer that I would celebrate with my Sister, who is a survivor of breast cancer. She is doing well, and I thank the Lord for His healing anointing power in her life through your prayers and the goodness, grace, and mercy by our faith in the promises of His Word. Thank you for helping me keep my faith simple and my expectations high!

My husband and I attended Grace Family Church in Davenport, Iowa to hear you speak in 2023. You called me out and had a word for me that really blessed me. You said you saw people above me who were in Heaven. God knew I wouldn't be happy if they weren't there and they were there because of me. Jesse, I've prayed for people for years, family members I never met because they passed before I was born. I really wanted to see my great grandparents and grandparents, and other friends and family members—many people I didn't know if they truly believed, but I was praying He saved them and I would see them some day. God is so good to give me that word! That He wanted me to be happy and that there are people in Heaven because of me. Another part of this word is in regards to my oldest brother. God had told me he was saved about 35 years ago, but I never saw anything in his life that showed he believed. In early 2022 he had some serious health issues. This situation in his life gave us opportunity to talk, and I would tell him God was with him and I shared the Gospel with him about a month before he passed. Before he passed, that day I'd prayed out loud over him that he wouldn't suffer long and that Jesus would take his hand and take him home. I've had to just trust that God did that and I believed that...but I asked Him for confirmation. For about a month before we attended your event at Grace Family Church, I had been praying about my brother, that God would let me know that he was there in Heaven, that he really did believe before he passed away, and God gave you this word for me. Wow! God is so good! So, this word God gave me was a comfort in many ways. Thank you so much, Jesse, for serving the Lord and saving one soul at a time. I love this idea, saving one soul at a time. That's what I want to do. God bless you and Cathy and all who help you in the ministry. Keep up the good work!

Thanks, Pastor Jesse. You always encourage me to pursue God in every area of my life—spiritually, financially, physically, and relationship wise. I love you and Pastor Cathy. Thanks for your obedience and love for our Lord Jesus.

Thank you, Sister Cathy, for your Bible Study on “The Truth About Healing.” I've been standing on the Word for my healing and deliverance for years now. But because of your teaching on the thorn in the side, it helped me understand that God doesn't want me in pain to keep me humble. For many years, I believed that. Now that I know the truth, I can move forward in my healing and I don't have to wait for it. I also know that I have to be careful who I hear the Word from. Thank you for yielding to the Holy Spirit and speaking God's truth.

Thank you, man of God! Through your teachings, the Lord Jesus Christ has taught me to be brave.

This praise report has been translated into English for you to rejoice with us.

Civil Disobedience: Stand Up For What Is Right

Every believer is called to be a responsible citizen by obeying our government's laws, respecting our leaders, and honoring their authority. But when the laws of man violate the laws of God, what are we to do? We are to rise and stand up for God's Truth!

When Jesus' disciples went out to spread the Good News of Christ, they faced great persecution, but they could not be stopped. They had a deep conviction to preach and honor God's Word as final authority, even if it meant death.

Today, so much is happening in the world that is in direct violation of what the Bible commands. More than ever, we need to stand strong for God peaceably and shine the light of Christ to the world. In this timely, highly-charged Boardroom Chat, Jesse and Cathy bring you clarity and conviction, coupled with scripture, that will empower you to stand up for what is right in the eyes of God no matter what the world is saying or doing.

Whenever you are faced with a situation that conflicts with your faith, remember that you have the all-powerful, infallible Word of God on your side. In Christ, you have His strength and overcoming power to fight for His Truth in every circumstance. Just as Jesus obeyed the Father and took a stand for you, you've been called to stand up for His Word and live a life of great purpose for Him!

I GAVE GOD A JOB & HE QUALIFIED ME!

Enjoy this powerful testimony from a precious member of our Covenant Church family and recurring guest on “Glorious Living with Cathy,” Jessica Berthelot Maloy.

The ministry’s theme for this year is “Give God a Job,” and I had many things on my list that I wanted fulfilled this year. One of the many things on my list was a promotion at work.

I wasn’t even actively looking for this position, and on paper it seemed like there was no way I could receive this position. My previous boss even said to me, “There is no way you are going to get this, but go ahead and apply for it!” Although I knew that I was not qualified for this in the natural, I believed that it would happen supernaturally. I spoke to God and said, “Lord, You know this is the desire of my heart! Everything in this job description checks off all of my boxes. This is the perfect job for me.” This is a very prestigious corporate position, which is something you don’t really hear of in the nursing field.

So, I went in for the first round of interviews, and low and behold, I was not qualified. However, that suddenly did not matter to them all that much! When applying for the job, I made it clear that I had to be home on Sundays to attend Covenant Church. I experienced supernatural favor, and the employers wanted me to come back for a second interview. At that point, I knew that the Lord was moving!

I went back to speak with them for a second time, and I was thrilled to learn that I got the JOB! I received an amazing promotion that I was not even qualified for! I may not have been qualified on paper, BUT GOD QUALIFIED ME! Ephesians 3:20 (TPT) is the Scripture that I constantly stand on. It states, “Never doubt God’s mighty power to work in you and accomplish all this. He will achieve infinitely more than your greatest request, your most unbelievable dream, and exceed your wildest imagination! He will outdo them all, for His miraculous power constantly energizes you.” In that time of waiting and praying, I did what the Word says and stood on the promises of God.

Not only does this position bring financial increase, but also it allows me to travel all over the country, which is such a desire of my heart. It is wonderful to travel throughout the week and come back home to worship with my church family. My advice to you all is to stay planted wherever you are and keep believing that God will get the job done. It is so important to keep Him in the center of it all. When you put God first, He will put you first!

GIVE THANKS Always

CATHY DUPLANTIS

Isometimes tease Jesse and tell him that the reason I stopped cooking was because he stopped being thankful. It's a joke, of course. The truth is that we rarely have time for a home-cooked meal because of our busy traveling schedule. But, when I have the time to clean the cobwebs out of the pots and cook, it is cause for a celebration. I even use the special china that Jesse thinks is "just to look at." I consider it worth all the trouble when he takes the time to give thanks for the meal that I cooked for him.

God is the same way. He has prepared so many good things for us to enjoy and He likes to know that it is appreciated. Ephesians 5:20 says, "Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ."

Jesus, our perfect example, always showed His appreciation by publicly giving thanks to His Father. Whether He was multiplying the food or raising Lazarus from the dead, Jesus never forgot to give thanks to His Father. He spoke out of the abundance of a heart that was full of thanksgiving to God.

*"Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord
Jesus Christ."
Ephesians 5:20*

"I Want to Thank the Lord!"

"Does anyone have a good testimony today?" That question was regularly asked by the pastor in the first church that Jesse and I attended after we were born again. There never seemed to be a shortage of saints to stand up and testify about the faithfulness of God. Some members could testify with such boldness that it ignited shouts of praise all over the building.

Others would ramble on forever and put half of the congregation to sleep. Then there was me.

In those days, my testimony always started the same way: "I want to thank the Lord..." But before I could say just what I was thankful for, I would burst into tears. Just thinking about all that Jesus meant to me would touch my heart so deeply that I would cry like a baby in front of the entire church. This happened more often than I care to remember.

Each time someone in the church told me how blessed they were by my "testimony," I would stare at them in disbelief. What testimony? I never made it through the introductory phrase.

Jesse's mom liked to say that it was the golden finger of God touching my heart. I knew that was true, but I was ready for Him to touch my tongue. I felt like a failure because I couldn't say six words without getting choked up.

Although I was tempted to stay seated and never try to testify again, I refused to give up. I was determined to testify about all that Jesus had meant to me. When that day finally came, I'm not sure if the church people praised God for my testimony or for the fact that I actually completed an entire sentence before breaking into tears.

In the years since that time, I have developed a thankful heart for what my mother-in-law called "the golden finger of God." When He moves my heart to testify or to shout, dance, run, laugh, or cry, I am always thankful for His touch, in whatever way it happens to come. I'm dedicated to yielding to His touch. I have what you might call a "have handkerchief, will travel" kind of attitude!

Now, I know that not every life that is touched by God gives Him thanks. The Bible tells us about nine lepers that just kept on walking after they were healed by Jesus. Although Jesus responded to the cry of all ten lepers, only one was actually thankful. Only one turned around and glorified God. And, do you know what? Only one was made truly whole.

And it came to pass, as He went to Jerusalem, that He passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

And as He entered into a certain village, there met Him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off:

And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.

And when He saw them, He said unto them, Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed.

And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God,

And fell down on his face at His feet, giving Him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.

And He said unto him, Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole.

Luke 17:11-19

Now, all ten were healed of leprosy, but what kicked the miracle healing into a higher level of wholeness was only one thing: thankfulness!

I believe that if the one grateful leper had lost any fingers, toes, or bits of ear to that dreadful disease, all those stolen parts grew back that day. Even though this man was a Samaritan—a stranger to the covenant of promise—Jesus said that his faith had made him whole. Because this man had a thankful heart, he was able to tap into a higher level of faith and got all that was available to him that very day. Glory to God!

Attitude Adjustment

There is a great lesson to be learned by the story of the nine lepers that forgot to thank Jesus for their healing. The lesson is that God always has much more than we can ask or think, and He wants to pour His goodness out on our lives. But when we forget to acknowledge what He has already done, we stop the flow of His power in our lives. Without a thankful heart, we simply can't get God's best.

Psalm 103:2-5 says, "Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; Who healeth all thy diseases; Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; Who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies; Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's."

If you have forgotten those benefits, it may be time to give yourself an attitude adjustment. Just like the Psalmist did, you can tell your soul (which is your mind, will, and emotions) to "Bless the Lord!"

Get into the habit of acknowledging God's benefits to you, and thank Him with every fiber of your being. Count your blessings and consider what He has already done for you. Thank Him for forgiving your iniquities, healing your diseases, redeeming your life from destruction, and crowning you with lovingkindness and tender mercies. Thank Him for satisfying your mouth with good things so that your youth is renewed like the eagle's. Don't forget all of His benefits!

When God sent His Son, Jesus, to die for our sins on the cross, every benefit we would ever need in this life was freely and lavishly bestowed on us. And those gifts of divine favor and blessing are available to all who will humble themselves and call upon the name of Jesus. God has given us His Holy Spirit to help us realize, comprehend, and appreciate these gifts.

The Bible says, "Now we have not received the spirit [that belongs to] the world, but the [Holy] Spirit Who is from God, [given to us] that we might realize and comprehend and appreciate the gifts [of divine favor and blessing so freely and lavishly] bestowed on us by God" (1 Corinthians 2:12 AMPC).

Not Just Lips

Tradition and empty words may impress man, but true thanksgiving will come from a heart full of gratitude to God for His goodness. If your heart is not right with God, you're just a pair of lips. Hebrews 13:15 says, "By Him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to His name."

The people of Jesus' day were filled with tradition. The Pharisees enjoyed putting on great shows of formality to impress the people with their religion. They were also very critical when Jesus did not do things exactly the way they thought He should. In Mark 7:6, Jesus said, "... Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth Me with their lips, but their heart is far from Me."

I'm reminded of the candy wax lips I used to buy when I was a child. They were huge, red, perfectly shaped lips that covered my entire mouth and chin. Like a mask, they could change my outward appearance and make me appear to be smiling and full of joy. But they were just wax lips and didn't last very long.

Many people struggle their entire lives to keep up a front and say the right words, but they are just lips. They may fool people and themselves, but God sees right through those lips and goes straight to the source: the heart. Hebrews 4:13 says, "Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in His sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of Him with Whom we have to do."

As a child, whenever I had a fight with my sisters, my mother would make us hug each other and say, "I'm sorry and I love you." If it was just lips and not from the heart, mother knew it. She would make us apologize again until we actually meant what we said. Mother had to be satisfied that it came from our heart and not just our lips.

In Luke 12:2, Jesus said, "For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known." When we realize that we are transparent before Jesus, we can take off our wax lips and open our lives completely to Him. His power to save, heal, and deliver is still available to all that reach out to Him in faith.

Just like that one leper that had an attitude of a thankful heart, your faith can also make you whole. When you take that one step towards Jesus, He will meet you and walk with you every step of the way. It is just one of the many benefits that you can thank God for. Open your heart to Him today and give thanks always! 🌍
